DATABASE
ROOM 6A, LEVEL 6

This year the database team here at Oracle is excited to bring to ODTUG Kscope an entire day of training on the core topics of interest to developers and really, ALL database professionals. You can expect more deep, fundamental knowledge of what makes the database work and less marketing or future-looking topics. The keyword here really is “training!” We’ll cover design, SQL, PL/SQL, performance, and the tools you need to do your job.

Because we also want you to have fun on your day off, we're bringing both knowledgeable AND entertaining speakers, and we're incorporating a game show into the talks—you will get to show off your knowledge and win some fun prizes. But what we really hope you bring home to your workplace is a more valuable and productive YOU.

9:00 – 10:00 a.m.

EPM
ROOM 6B, LEVEL 6

Oracle Enterprise Performance Management Cloud momentum continues to be adopted at a rapid pace by both existing on-premises Hyperion customers and new customers alike. If you were at the Sunday Symposium last year, you were among the first to see some of the latest additions before they became publicly available, and you heard from a panel of customers on their cloud journeys. Whether you have existing EPM deployments on-premises, cloud, or a little of both, this symposium is one you definitely don't want to miss. We will cover the strategy and roadmap for all your deployment investments and continue our tradition of treating attendees to first looks at the latest innovations and works in progress. In addition, we will hear from new Oracle EPM Cloud customers.

Presented by Oracle EPM product management and development leaders, you will get unfiltered insight into our key R&D initiatives. Our goal at the EPM Sunday Symposium is to expose attendees to the latest and greatest from Oracle EPM development in these areas and offer you the opportunity to learn more in the detailed conference sessions. In keeping with our goal, the EPM Symposium's agenda reflects the late-breaking R&D efforts in the cloud which are not covered by sessions, while also relaying key efforts for on-premises EPM. We look forward to your attendance at this year's symposium.

1:00 – 1:15 p.m.
Opening Remarks
Al Marciante, Oracle Corporation

1:15 - 2:00 p.m.

11:00 - 11:15 a.m. Break, 6 ABC Concourses, Level 6

THURSDAY DEEP DIVE SESSIONS 9:30 - 11:00 A.M.

APPLICATION EXPRESS ROOM 602/603, LEVEL 6
Developing with APEX Like a Pro
▲ Dietmar Aust, Opal-Consulting

Oracle APEX is a low-code platform and a full-blown professional environment for enterprise developers. During this deep dive, we will explore how to develop with APEX like with ANY OTHER professional software development environment. How can you become a professional APEX developer or level up your game? What are the cardinal sins you have to avoid, and what are the commonly agreed best practices? Listen to some of the luminaries of the Oracle APEX community as they explain what they have learned over the years and what tools you need to apply today to move yourself to the next level.

EPM DATA INTEGRATION ROOM 608, LEVEL 6
EPM Data Integration
♣ Jon Harvey, eCapital Advisors

Another awesome ODTUG Kscope is almost in the books. Before we say goodbye to Seattle, the EPM Data Integration track has a technical “goody bag” to send you off with. Join us as some of the best and brightest in the data integration space share tips, tricks, and insights you can put to work TODAY. Our session will cover a broad set of integration technologies like ODI, FDMEE, EDMCS, PBCS, and more!

DATABASE ROOM 607, LEVEL 6
Demystifying Edition-Based Redefinition
Richard Soule, Insum ★

Properly implemented, EBR can allow your team to do live updates to production systems with zero downtime. This session is a plain language deep dive into taking an existing database application, and, with one final downtime, EBR-ing it, then doing a live update to production. Edition-Based Redefinition may not be for everyone, but once we work together on demystifying its complexities, it may just be what your applications need.

ANALYTICS ROOM 612, LEVEL 6
Visualization Showcase
Mike Jelen, Red Pill Analytics

We all appreciate the art of data visualizations—creating beautiful graphics to help tell a story. In our Thursday deep dive session called “Visualization Showcase,” we will have industry leaders share their favorite visualizations that they’ve built and explain how they were able to create their works of informational art. Join us for what is sure to be a great time with funny stories, beautiful graphics, and tips for better visualizations.

11:15 a.m. - 12:00 p.m. Closing Session, 6B, Level 6

ESSBASE ROOM 605/610, LEVEL 6
Block Creation—The Final Countdown
Peter John Nitschke, EssbaseDownUnder

If this has ever happened to you, you’ll know the pain of block creation. Come to the deep dive, where a group of Essbase superstars will truly deep dive into the realms of Essbase detail, explaining both exactly what a “block” actually is and giving foolproof methods to solve even the most fiendish of block creation problems so that you never have to worry about it again!

FINANCIAL CLOSE ROOM 609, LEVEL 6
The Best of Both Worlds—Welcome to the Hybrid Close
Julien Coudrette, Grant Thornton

If you are excited by all the new features available with the cloud but you still have some legacy on-premises EPM applications that you plan to keep for a few years, then hybrid may be the way to go!

Join a selection of our Financial Close speakers for an encore on Thursday to discuss topics such as:

- Using FDMEE to connect ARCS to multiple JDE instances (Seema Shah, Alithya)
- EPRCS on HFM for narrative and XBRL reporting (Megha Chopra, Genpact and Geordan Drummond, Alithya)
- Connecting FCCS to on-premises data sources (Mike Casey, Oracle Corporation)

PLANNING ROOM 613/614, LEVEL 6
Still Undecided About Planning Cloud Modules? Come and Ask Customers Who Have Successfully Done It!
Leo Gonzalez, ProCore Consulting

Wrap up your ODTUG Kscope19 experience by joining us for our Planning deep dive. Come and hear success stories from a panel of actual clients who have been there, done that! The panel will NOT include Oracle and/or consulting partners. These will be clients who have actually implemented Planning Cloud modules, and they will share their experiences as well as answer questions from attendees. Hope to see you there!
